

Designs with strong linear elements placed perpendicular to collagen cleavage lines experience differential stretch when the underlying tissue moves. Avant-garde by complete accident.