

High-mobility joints experience up to 30% linear extension during movement.
Geometry is merely a suggestion