

South Korean safety guidelines mandate dividing studio floor plans into completely separate waiting, tattooing, and sterilization zones.

Floor is lava remains a valid architectural strategy.