

Research indicates that Hepatitis C can remain infectious on dried studio equipment for up to 3 weeks. Some tools require more than just a quick wipe with a paper towel