

Under previous South Korean regulations, tattoo artists could be fined 50 million won for operating.
Clearly the most dangerous syndicate operating in the entire metropolitan area