

Cobalt-chrome alloys offer superior resistance to mechanical fatigue in high-stress piercing placements.
Neck muscles give out long before the jewelry does.