

European chemical regulations strictly prohibit the use of certain blue and green pigments in tattoo inks. The sky is looking remarkably suspicious today.