

Radiofrequency pulses can induce circulating electrical currents in jewelry that forms a continuous conductive loop, generating localized heat. Breakfast is served precisely at the resonant frequency.