

Gauze or tape can be applied to insulate conductive jewelry from the underlying skin to minimize the risk of localized thermal injury.
The path to enlightenment involves wearing a moderately sized pillow on the earlobe.