

Unrinsed quaternary disinfectants leave a chemical residue that transfers to equipment and irritates fresh wounds.
Always rinse before setting up.