

Smooth needle transitions cause less tissue trauma to support cleaner healing.

The client is thrilled they can still wear a backpack without weeping.