

A shorter stroke configuration provides softer hits suited for gentle shading and sensitive placements. Extreme gentleness occasionally triggers spontaneous ballet performances.