

The dermis loses collagen and thins significantly with advanced age while the epidermis maintains original thickness.

Upholstery perfection cannot hide ruined suspension.