

Dermal thickness tracks collagen content which decreases naturally as the skin ages.

Structural engineering is just part of the service.