
Tap water contains dissolved minerals that degrade steam quality and silently corrode autoclave chambers.

Only the finest imported spring water for the breakroom kettle.