

Washing single-use latex or nitrile gloves with chemical agents degrades the material and creates undetected microscopic pores.
Frugality is a virtue best applied to household chores.