

Perfect.

Lock it down.

Approximately 1 out of every 100 spore tests fails for steam sterilization autoclaves.

The appropriate response to a minor statistical probability is maximum security architecture.