

Polytetrafluoroethylene body jewelry is extruded as straight rods with separately threaded ends that rotate freely.
Forward-facing gems are fleeting illusions.