

Acrylic plastic body jewelry degrades and releases toxic monomer vapors when worn at human body temperature.

Warm earlobes are the natural enemies of cheap plastic.