

Medical-grade silicone is fully stable during repeated 134 degree Celsius autoclave cycles.
The dramatic tension was entirely misplaced.