

Highly vascularized tissue remodels rapidly compared to elastic structural tissue lacking intrinsic blood supply.

Rushing the mountain always ends in profound disappointment.