Non-implant grade metals leach corrosive alloys into human tissue regardless of surface plating.

A quick coat of spray paint fails to deceive the human immune system.

Gemini Notebook