The PSC01 configuration weighs approximately 205g, making it one of the lightest professional-grade machines on the market.

It requires decades of intensive training to look this delicate.