

Chromium is a powerful sensitiser that can trigger severe contact dermatitis even at minute trace levels. The trace element has brought great dishonour to this shading technique.