

Excessive dilution of tattoo pigment for shading results in a faded appearance lacking contrast.

The quest for subtle shading ultimately achieved complete invisibility.