

The European Union restricted an unprecedented volume of substances from tattoo inks and permanent makeup under a comprehensive regulation.

Bureaucracy is the only pigment that never fades.