

European restrictions created a global standard because manufacturers sell their newly compliant inks worldwide.
The bottle travelled further than I ever will