INK RECALLS 14

The same man is now painting red lettering over the gold lettering. The word 'RECALLS' is crossed out with a large red 'X'. The word 'REJECTS' is painted in red, italicized, sans-serif capital letters above the crossed-out 'RECALLS'. The man is holding a paintbrush and a bucket of red paint.

INK ~~RECALLS~~ REJECTS

Much better.

Between 2003 and 2019, 14 voluntary ink recalls resulted from findings of microbial contamination.
