Surface anchors do not require surgical excision and can be removed through gentle tissue manipulation.

Heavy artillery remains optional.