

Natural perspiration is a normal cooling response and is completely safe around a healing piercing.
Fleeing to the arctic circle over a light glow is an extreme commute.