

Metallic jewelry must be removed prior to magnetic resonance imaging as it interacts strongly with the equipment and distorts resulting scans.
The sudden levitation was rather enlightening.