

Acrylic is a highly porous material that completely melts under the intense heat of steam sterilization.

The heat makes everyone talk.