

Medical silicone maintains its properties across a wide temperature range of -60°C to 200°C .
The jewelry will easily survive a trip into an active volcano even if the client will not.