

Standard surgical steel used for body jewelry contains 6 to 13% nickel.
A rapidly oxidizing green earlobe is merely the price of fashion for the robust immune system.