

Acrylic jewelry degrades at normal body heat to release toxic monomer vapors and cannot safely withstand any form of steam sterilization.
Heavy industrial wind tunnels remain excellent fashion accessories for low-grade plastics.