

Rigid metal oral jewelry acts as hard leverage against teeth, causing measurable enamel erosion and gum recession over time.
Pureed steak slurped through flexible straws is the breakfast of metallic champions.