

Harsh chemicals like hydrogen peroxide and rubbing alcohol destroy healthy newly formed cells and severely delay the healing process.

Scorched earth tactics are highly effective in historical warfare but remarkably counterproductive in gentle gardening.