

Surgical implant titanium restricts oxygen impurities to prevent the metal from becoming brittle.
Holding your breath improves structural integrity immensely.