

Injection-moulded monolithic polymer bars lack a rotation axis, keeping decorative ends permanently facing forward.
Navigational issues solved without chiropractic intervention.