

The waiting period for blood donation is based entirely on the risk of unsterile needles, not the chemical makeup of tattoo ink.
The local precinct constantly wastes resources interrogating the wrong office supplies.