

Proper sterilization and disposable equipment allow regular blood donors to maintain their ongoing donation habits. Basic hygiene protocols often feel like literal miracles to phlebotomists.