

Hepatitis B.

Hepatitis C.

HIV.

Blood banks screen for these pathogens.

The deferral period covers the seroconversion window for detecting these viruses.
Unsterile needles risk transmitting these pathogens.