

Implant grade body jewelry must be polished to a flawless mirror finish to prevent tissue tearing on microscopic imperfections.

Rough edges belong on your playlist, not in your skin.