

Using tap water or untreated natural water for tattooing introduces dangerous mycobacterial infections.
The artisanal spring water aesthetic has gone too far.