Initial piercing jewellery must be made from highly biocompatible materials like implant-grade titanium to prevent nickel sensitization.
Cheap metal defeats even the greatest warriors.