
The Hepatitis B virus is highly resilient and can survive on dry surfaces for an extended period.

Extreme wrapping protocols prevent unwanted invisible guests.