Maintaining conductivity at or below 5 µS/cm ensures the water is sufficiently demineralized to avoid damaging the autoclave's internal components.

The sterilizer is now a verified water sommelier.