

Medical records are confidential and generally must be retained for the duration of employment plus 30 years.
Your paperwork will officially outlive the filing cabinet.