

South Korea requires non-medical tattooists to pass a national qualifying exam to obtain a legal operating license.
I should have studied for the oral exam.