

Lasers calibrated for dark ink pass harmlessly through unpigmented tissue without being absorbed.

Inanimate ceramics require substantially less dermatological intervention.